Hi guys--

I'm looking for a J. W. Miller 8814 IF can coil, NOS or used, as long as it's intact and functional. Not technically a glowbug item, but it hasn't been made for about 20 years.

Let me know if you've got one you'll part with.

I just got a few tubes in the mail and when I opened up one of the boxes I had a "why didn't I think of that" moment. You all know how tubes don't always fit snugly in their boxes, and you hate to have them rattling around, right? Well, somebody had jammed a couple of packing peanuts into the box to hold the tube firmly -- simple, cheap and effective, so I thought I'd pass it along.

Mike, KK6GM
